

Name of public contract:

Equipment for Development of Incremental Forming

Substantiation of fundamental and supplementary evaluation criteria and the bid evaluation method pursuant to section 156, subsection 1, paragraph d) of PCA

The lowest bid price:

The bid price is a sufficient evaluation criterion, as the subject-matter of the public contract is specified in enough detail through the technical characteristics and descriptions which clearly convey the purpose of the equipment. The evaluation based on the lowest bid price criterion will allow the Contracting Authority to maximize the utility value and the performance/cost ratio for the subject-matter of the public contract in the most transparent manner.
